Public Health Hero Award

UPHA recognizes Public Health Hero in three different categories 1) individual from the community, 2) public health employee, 3) group, organization, or project.

Each nomination is evaluated by the following criteria for each respective category.

Individual from the community
- Main job is not in public health
- Has raised awareness of public health issues
- Has been willing to take a stand/risk relating to public health
- Has proven exceptional service to the community

Public Health Employee
- Main job is in public health at the state, local, or community level
- Efforts have been over and above regular work assignments
- Has shown leadership/courage
- Has made a difference in public health

Group, organization, or project
- Has made a significant impact on public health
- Work is unusually creative or innovative
- Work involves multiple people
- Can include Utah Department of Health programs

This award will be presented at the annual Public Health Conference for Utah, April 8-10, 2020. To submit a nomination provide a written statement and any supporting documentation outlining how the community member, public health employee, or group/organization/project meets the above criteria. Please also include the following with your nomination:

1. Name and address of community member, public health employee, or group/organization/project.
2. Community member, public health employee, or group/organization/project place of employment and phone number.

All nominations and supporting documents must be received by 5:00 pm on Friday, March 20, 2019. Email nominations to Ivy Melton Sales at ivy@co.davis.ut.us.
